#dretscompartits: the exhibition and the debate on the rights of EU citizens

On the occasion of the European Year of Citizens 2013 [https://europedirect.paeria.cat/jornades-europe-direct-leida /European-year-of-citizens-2013], the Representation of the European Commission in Barcelona [https://barcelona .spain.representation.ec.europa.eu/index_ca] has organized an exhibition on the rights of citizens in the European Union, entitled "RIGHTS SHARED", which takes a tour of the rights we have as citizens of the EU, the fundamental rights and others that the Union has legislated to protect us both when we are in our country and when we travel or live abroad .

From January 10 to 17 it will be exhibited in the Patio del Palau de la Paeria in Lleida.

The exhibition will be inaugurated on Monday, January 13, 2014 at 7 p.m., with the organization of a DIALOGUE WITH THE CITIZENS, on the present, future and challenges of the EU.

The debate will be attended by the mayor of Lleida, Àngel Ros, the director of the Representation of the European Commission in Barcelona, Ferran Tarradellas, the director of the Center of Excellency Jean Monnet of the University of Lleida, Antoni Blanc [/sites/CatedraJeanMonnet/en/membres/dr-antoni-blanc-altemir/], and the journalist and Dossier Europa director, Rafa Gimena.
